Jared, I am so disappointed in EPA. You should be ashamed! You know that TSCA directly says that any material over 50ppm poses an unacceptable risk and must be removed. To leave it in place and not test the rest of the caulking and to allow the district to move children into those classrooms without removing the caulk already found to be high is unconscionable. I have been one of the people that has supported you and EPA and cannot believe you refused to act in this case. Unbelievable! Penny
